Acerca de

Hi, how are you? I'm Natalia, a programmer in training and passionate about technology. Currently, I work as a General Manager in a family business and I'm studying a degree in Programming at UTN, which allows me to combine my work experience with learning new technical skills.

Throughout my career, I worked in different sectors, including administrative work in the Cadastre Department of the Municipality of General Pueyrredón, where I specialized in correcting erroneous payments and customer service. This experience helped me to develop mediation skills, problem solving and management of tools such as Excel, Access and Word. In addition, I have knowledge in design programs such as Corel Draw, Photoshop and AutoCAD, acquired during my work in a printing center of the Faculty of Architecture and Design.

At UTN, I focus on acquiring solid fundamentals in programming. My short-term goal is to obtain a position as a programmer, where I can apply my knowledge in software development and continue to grow in the field of technology.
